RE: Formal Candidacy Announcement

Scott Aughney, an Independent Conservative from Jackson, Michigan, is formally announcing his candidacy for Michigan's 7th district U.S. House of Representatives seat in the 2010 election cycle. The district includes the counties of Lenawee, Hillsdale, Branch, Northern and Western Washtenaw, Jackson, Eaton, and most of Calhoun. The candidate will highlight his commitment to conservative principals on a political, social, and fiscal platform.

Mr. Aughney will operate his campaign as a grassroots candidate which includes a recently begun ballot petition drive to attain a position on the general election ballot, November 2010.

Scott is a 1983 graduate of Morenci High School in Lenawee County and has completed coursework at Jackson Community College and Adrian College with an emphasis in biology. An extensive work history in the food marketing and retail industry gives him a balanced perspective on supply economics, consumer shopping patterns, and incites into small business.

The Political Action Committee, Campaign to Elect Scott Aughney to Congress, has been formed and registered with the Federal Elections Commission to oversee Mr. Aughney's candidacy. The committee has founded the website www.ughneyforcongress.com to present details of Scott's platform, appearances, subject blogs, and contact information. In addition, residents of the district can offer to volunteer on the campaign or make a financial contribution.

Mr. Aughney is also interested in arranging "Meet the Candidate Events" and other organized appearances during the petition drive.
